She with the eyes that reflect stars
She walks with grace of love in words
Oh she welcomes him in to her own world
She opens their arms to love still more

Oh she always lights up our way home
She shows us the strength through just a smile
She loves the lines on her face
'Cause she loved each moment

She's not the woman whom we dreamed of
She's just the woman who gave us home
She gave us everything we needed
And everything we loved

She's always beside you when you need her
She wants you to fly
But when the storm is raging outside
Her heart will keep you warm

It's not her burden to love you
It's her gift to love you more
For you're the beam that followed in the light of her
So don't forget it's her love that brought you to now
And remember she
Taught you all you are
And show her all her love

She's not the woman whom we dreamed of
She's just the woman who gave us home
She gave us everything we needed
And everything we loved

She's always beside you when you need her
She wants you to fly
But when the storm is raging inside
Her heart will keep you calm

It's not her burden to love you
It's her gift to love you more
For you're the beam that followed in the light of her
So don't forget it's her love that brought you to now
And remember she
Taught you all you are
And show her all her love
